10월 고3

1. 다음을 듣고, 남자가 하는 말의 목적으로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

M: Attention, students. This is Bradley Carter from the school administration office. I'd like to share an important notice. After school today, workers will be cleaning the outside walls of the school building. During the cleaning process, water may splash around the classroom windows. To prevent water from coming inside, please make sure all classroom windows are completely closed before you leave. If the windows are left open, water may get into the classrooms and cause problems. So don't forget to shut the windows before heading home today! Thank you for your cooperation.

2. 대화를 듣고, 여자의 의견으로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

M: Ms. Sydney, can I have a word with you?

W: Sure, Fred. What is it?

M: Is there a good way to review lessons after class?

W: Well, why don't you put what you learned into writing?

M: Could you be more specific?

W: Yeah. I mean that you should write down what you learned in class on a blank sheet of paper without looking at the textbook or your notes.

M: Will that really work?

W: Of course. It's because while you're doing that, you can check what you've understood or missed.

M: I see. I can keep track of what I really learned from the lesson.

W: Exactly. That way, you can review effectively.

M: I'll try that. Thank you for your advice.

3. 다음을 듣고, 남자가 하는 말의 요지로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

M: Hello, listeners. Welcome back to The Digital Balance. Do you use your smartphone as an alarm clock every morning? It's convenient, but I recommend using an actual clock to start your day feeling more refreshed. If your phone is the first thing you touch, you're more likely to lie down looking through your phone aimlessly and wasting your time. This can leave you feeling rather lazy even after just waking up. Using an actual alarm clock helps you get out of bed without you becoming distracted by your smartphone. This small shift allows you to kick-start your day without delay. Switch to an actual alarm clock and enjoy a more lively morning.

4. 대화를 듣고, 그림에서 대화의 내용과 일치하지 않는 것을 고르시오.

M: Hi, Sarah. How did your club's book signing event go?

W: It was great, Andrew! Here's a photo I took.

M: Wow, there's a banner that says "The Dreaming Bear" on the wall.

W: Yeah. That's the title of the author's new novel. Do you see the bear on the armchair?

M: Yes. It looks so cute.

W: A bear is the main character of his new novel.

M: Oh, I see. What is the square sign on the floor for?

W: It's for the students to see where to line up.

M: That must've been helpful. I guess the table was for the author, right?

W: Yes. I put the striped table cloth on the table.

M: Good choice. I like the two flowerpots on the bookshelf. They lighten up the mood.

W: Thank you. The event was a wonderful experience.

5. 대화를 듣고, 여자가 할 일로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

M: Right, Jessy. I hope visitors enjoy the artwork we've created. Let's make sure everything is ready.

W: Okay. I already put up the posters for the exhibition.

M: Yeah, I saw them around the school building.

W: Did you send invitation letters to the students and teachers?

M: Yes. Also, I prepared the guest book and put it at the exhibition entrance.

W: Excellent. What else do we need to do?

M: Oh, one of the light bulbs in the corner is not working. Can you replace it with a new one?

W: I'll take care of it. What about the welcome gifts for the visitors?

M: What's the difference between the two?

W: You'll get a set of six printed copies for both, but the premium package includes a hair and make-up service.

M: I'll just go with the basic package. I also need more printed copies.

W: Of course. You can add them in sets of six. It's $10 per set.

M: Sounds good. I'll take one more set.

W: So, that's basic package with one extra set of photos, right?

W: I really wish I could, but I'm afraid I can't this time.

M: Why not? Does your dog still need to go to the vet?

W: No, my dog has recovered now.

M: Good. So you must be busy preparing for your history presentation.

W: That's not it, either. I finished that yesterday.

W: No, the club meets in Room 204.

W: Sure. I don't think we should spend more than $200.

M: I agree. That's too expensive. What about the number of levels? Leo loves climbing high.

W: Then three levels won't be enough. The tower should have at least four.

M: Okay, let's cross out that one. As for the material, metal might feel too cold. Leo would prefer other materials.

W: Good point. Now we are down to two choices. Should we get one with a hammock?

M: Definitely. Leo loves napping in cozy places, so a hammock is a must.

[16 ~ 17] 다음을 듣고, 물음에 답하십시오.

W: Hello, students. Last time, we learned what universal design is. But, did you know that universal design is also widely applied in parts of our clothing? First, let's start with buttons. Some shirts use magnetic buttons that make it easier for people with weak hand strength to get dressed without assistance. Second, some waistbands are made in a way that people can adjust them. These adjustable waistbands can be helpful for pregnant women. Third, we also have some zippers that are easier to hold and pull. Easy-grip zippers make it possible for anyone to zip up a jacket effortlessly. Finally, there are labels. Some clothes use soft labels which are made of special fabric. They help reduce skin irritation for people with sensitive skin. These parts of clothing which reflect universal design make clothing more accessible for everyone. Now let's watch a video.
